

Christine Amour-Levar

Founder, Women on a Mission & HER Planet Earth

Christine Amour-Levar is a French-Swiss-Filipina Social Entrepreneur, Adventurer, Author and Advocate. A passionate champion of female empowerment and environmental conservation, she founded Women on a Mission (WOAM) and HER Planet Earth, two award-winning, not-for-profit organisations, that take all-female teams on pioneering expeditions around the world, as a way to support worthy causes. HER Planet Earth's primary objective is to raise awareness and funds for underprivileged women affected by climate change, while WOAM aims to empower women who have been subjected to violence and abuse.

Christine is also part of the founding team at Force for Good, a social tech startup that is disrupting philanthropy and connecting changemakers globally. She is an active Advisor and Board Member to several purpose-led organisations focused on Female Empowerment and Sustainability, including Impact Investing and Cellular Agriculture. Christine resides in Singapore with her husband and four children.
